Chairman's Report

Dear Corporate Partners and Supporters,

As we near the end of year, it is truly humbling to reflect on the commitment and loyalty that you have demonstrated throughout 2019. Thanks to your continued support and brilliance, Sony Foundation Australia has had a significant positive impact on the youth of Australia, making our 21st year one of our best to date.

We would not be able to have such an impact without the generosity of our corporate partners, donors, ambassadors, media partners, event sponsors and volunteers. That's why I would like to express my sincere thanks and highlight the contribution from a few partners in recent months.

We look forward to reporting in the next issue on: what we hope to be another record-breaking result at this year's Wharf4Ward; the opening of our Brisbane and Sydney You Can Centre's; the launch of our fertility preservation service; and share stories from our Children's Holiday Camp Program.

As always, our genuine thanks,

Sincerely,

John Kirby AM

Chairman, Sony Foundation Australia

The Healing Power of Music

The Melbourne You Can Centre was a flurry of excitement with special visits from four Sony Foundation ambassadors ahead of River4Ward. Delta Goodrem, Guy Sebastian and The Veronicas spent time with patients, hearing why the You Can Centre is so important to them and having an impromptu jam session.

Its positive experiences like these that mean the world to patients, especially 21 year old Phillip who was too unwell to attend River4Ward. Knowing that these influential and inspiring ambassadors care about them, the You Can cause and are there to support and motivate them during the toughest of times.

“ We take a great responsibility in the fact that music is healing. We also believe in giving back and the importance of being part of someone's life through music.

Delta Goodrem, Sony Music Artist

River4Ward hits new heights!

Celebrating its fifth anniversary, River4Ward was taken to new heights in April, as Sony Foundation's iconic Melbourne event moved to the sky! Set against the Melbourne skyline and the glistening Yarra, 400 of Melbourne's elite and key executives rallied together to raise an event record of $810,000 for Sony Foundation's You Can program, including a national fertility preservation service.

Inspired by visits to the Melbourne You Can Centre, Sony Music artists Delta Goodrem, Guy Sebastian, David Campbell and The Veronicas dedicated their performances to Sony Foundation You Can Champs. A highlight was Delta and Guy's surprise duet, where the two performed a moving cover of Savage

Garden's 'I Knew I Loved You Before I Met You'.

Adding even more star power to the event was an impressive line-up of hosts from Nine, Ten, Sky News and Fox Sports including; Eddie McGuire, Natalie Bassingthwaite, Rebecca Madden, Samantha Dawson, Neroli Meadows and Nick Riewoldt.

A special SHOUT out to Gerry and Val Ryan from Jayco for making the day's highest pledge of $21,000 - thank you for your continued support of Sony Foundation and You Can!

“Nick Scali is a company that has its roots in family values and furnishing the family home has been the centre of what we do. We are proud and delighted to support the efforts of the Sony Foundation in making a difference. – Les Hart, Nick Scali”

Rachel Gray,
Patient, RBWH

Aliona's Words of Wisdom

Aliona was diagnosed with Hodgkin's Lymphoma at just 21 years old. It was quickly discovered when Aliona visited her GP that her lung had collapsed due to a mass the size of a rockmelon. Following a year of chemotherapy and before undergoing a stem cell transplant, Aliona shared her story at Brissy4Ward saying:

“ I will be one of the first patients to experience the new You Can Centre. This centre will be more than walls and couches, it will be a place to call our own, where I hope to be encouraged and encourage others that in the midst of our problems there is always light and potential to grow into the person we are yet to become.

Aliona Grytsenko, You Can speaker, Brissy4Ward 2019

Sufi's speech inspires

Sufi Salieh was studying at uni, busy with friends and had aspirations for her future like any other 20 year old when she was diagnosed with a Right Wilm's Tumour. During her intensive treatment including invasive surgery, chemotherapy and radiation, Sufi was also able to have the support of a You Can Centre and the OnTrac at Peter Mac team which made all the difference.

“ If I were to describe what the You Can Centre is like, imagine a safe haven or shelter you can come home to that protects you from the stormy weather. Should I have not had this Centre, I don't think I'd be able to overcome this challenging period of my life as well as I did.

Sufi Aidah Salieh, You Can speaker, River4Ward 2019

Stan lifts spirits higher

For years, dedicated Sony Music artist and Sony Foundation Ambassador Stan Walker did all he could to support 'You Can'. Performing at major events, visiting patients in hospital and featuring in campaigns. Little did he know that in years to come, he would sadly face his own cancer battle.

Now, in remission from stomach cancer, Stan Walker returned for his first performance with Sony Foundation at Brissy4Ward since the life changing ordeal. Before the event, he dropped into the Royal Brisbane & Women's Hospital, where our next You Can Centre will open, to see first-hand the impact of funds raised.

He met Molly, only 18 years old and far from her home in Rockhampton, who was on her first day of chemo. They hung out, shared cancer experiences, a few hugs and tears. It was this experience that inspired Molly to come to Brissy4ward the next day where she met other young cancer patients, some of which are now friends for life. She also got to see Stan perform a stirring rendition of "Amazing Grace", which he dedicated to Molly and the other You Can Champs.

“To be able to have these centres to go to, for yourself and your families. It makes the biggest difference in these people's lives. - Stan Walker”

Who runs the World?

Inspired by the work of Sony Foundation to improve the treatment experience for young Australians with cancer, Heather Hawkins signed up to do 'The Track', a 520km Ultra Marathon over 10 days between Alice Springs and Uluru, in the name of You Can. What pushed her through the gruelling challenge? The fighting spirits and brave You Can champs she was running in honour of each day.

“I love going on these adventures and running for a cause to help other people. It's also a way of celebrating life and surviving ovarian cancer. Running The Track was certainly a profound journey physically and emotionally and it meant so much to do it for the You Can champs.”
- Heather Hawkins

Heather was motivated by messages from Sony Foundation Ambassadors Amy Shark, Samantha Armytage, and Sally Obermeder.

With the You Can Champ names written on her arm and a motivational song playing in her ears, Heather ran for the young people she was so humbled by. Heather raised an incredible $10,159 for Sony Foundation and warmed the hearts of all who witnessed her incredible feat.

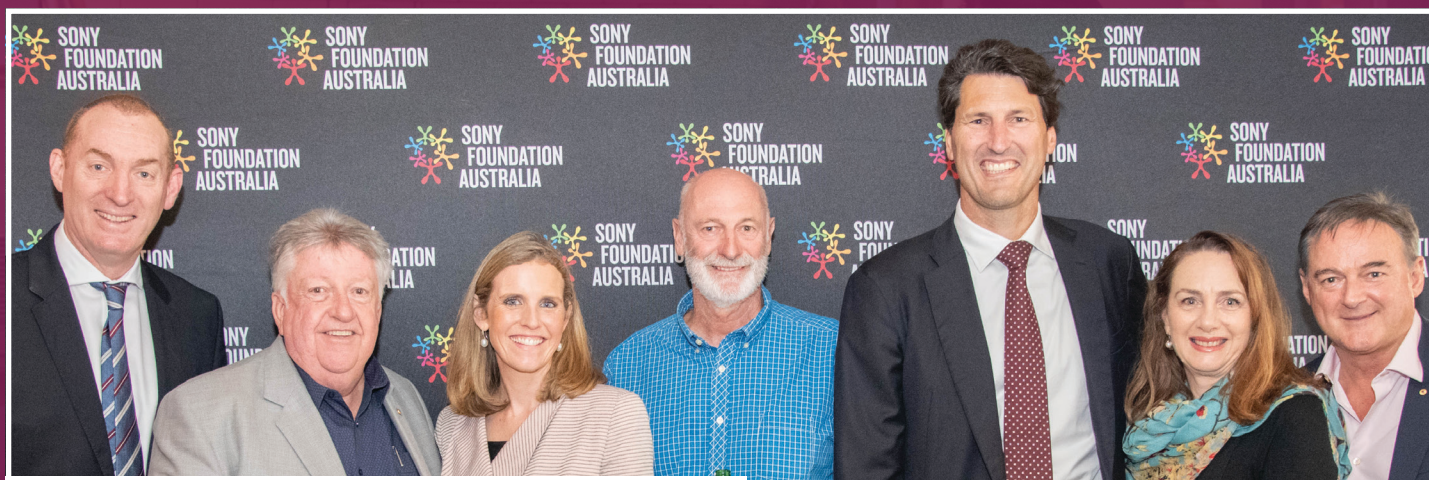

If you, or your team, would like to take part in a charity trek for Sony Foundation, please contact Emma Pechey at emma@sonyfoundation.org.au

“I really wanted to say a very big thank you for the amazing run you did and for dedicating one of your special days for my daughter. It melted my heart what you had done so I wanted to say a very big thank you and let you know you are an inspiration.”
- Mother of You Can Champ

Dennis Lillee, Australia's fastest bowler of his generation and cricket fan favourite, was John Eales' guest of honour at his annual Sony Foundation Captain's Run Luncheon held in May.

The exclusive event was attended by 100 guests from Kayo, Ord Minette, International Quarterback, Sony Music and more who were treated to an intimate Q&A with Lillee conducted by Eales. Lillee shared career highs and the lows, offering some personal and unfiltered recollections of a celebrated time in Australia's sporting history.

The event raised $180,000 thanks to the generosity of attendees, with an incredible 26 pledges on the day. Thank you to our event partners Hotel Centennial, Fox Gordon and Stella Artois. A huge SHOUT out and thank you to Sony Foundation Ambassador John Eales for hosting yet another very special lunch.

Sony ATV supports Youth Off The Streets Student

Sarah-Jane was the recipient of the Sony Foundation funded Youth Off The Streets Scholarship in 2017. Funding enabled Sarah-Jane to pursue tertiary education at the Australian Institute of Music. She hopes to one day work in the industry and was recently given an internship opportunity at Sony ATV supporting the team in suggesting music tracks for creative briefs.

"A highlight was when one of her song selections was chosen and licensed by one of our clients for use in a national TVC for Mazda. We're confident she will do very well upon completion of her studies at AIM, as she has a willingness to learn and an aptitude for music." Monique Riddell Sony ATV

Sarah-Jane said, "It's a super fun process and being able to creatively look through a range of music and send through the best picks is amazing."

If you are interested in hosting a young person from one of our programs for an internship, please contact Karen@sonyfoundation.org.au

Sky News surprises one lucky Sony Camper

SKY NEWS' 'OUR TOWN WITH PAUL MURRAY LIVE' SHOW TOOK A TRIP ACROSS THE BASS STRAIT TO VISIT LAUNCESTON, TASMANIA TO MEET A VERY SPECIAL SONY CAMPER, BRADIE-LEE.

12 year old Bradie-Lee has Battens Disease, a rare and fatal disorder. She has attended two Sony Foundation Holiday Camps at Launceston Church Grammar providing her with the unique opportunity to take part in activities and fun alongside kids her age and offering her parents some much needed respite.

Sadly, Bradie-Lee's condition means she suffers from muscular dystrophy, epilepsy, intellectual impairment, is blind and needs a wheelchair to get around. With her family finding it increasingly difficult to manage her mobility with the stairs in their home, Camp Coordinator, Elizabeth Poland applied for a $10,000 grant from Sony Foundation to help with home modifications.

During the show, Paul Murray interviewed Bradie-Lee and her mum and surprised them with the $10,000 grant from Sony Foundation. The grant will enable the installation of a stair climber for her chair in their home to make it more accessible. Thank you to the team at Sky News for making this such a special moment!

STARS “Blown Away” by MMAD Mentoring

Sony Music Artist Conrad Sewell and Australian hip hop artist, Allday, dropped by MMAD’s life-changing ‘Catch a Falling STAR’ Program recently to see the powerful impact on participants. Funded by Sony Foundation, this intensive and innovative music and mentoring program transforms the lives of 20 young Australians each year who face challenges of homelessness, domestic violence and neglect, drug and alcohol dependency, unemployment and mental illness.

During the music mentoring sessions, Conrad and Allday, spent time listening to the MMAD STARS’ stories, before harnessing the emotions from these experiences for a series of moving jam sessions and rap battles.

“I was lucky that I had a family who always told me I could do anything. The best part about coming here is that I get to tell you guys to believe in yourself.”

Conrad Sewell, Sony Music Artist

Sony Foundation Corporate Partner volunteer mentors from Nine Network, Sony Music Australia and The Orchard conducted a series of mini-workshops on the music business, marketing, personal brand and confidence building. Thank you to these employees for taking part, sharing your time and experiences with our MMAD STARS.
